Practicum: Linking Attachment Styles with Modes – Case Formulation

Given all that you have learned, and the activities you have done to this point, your task now is to develop an attachment-informed schema formulation of your client. Feel free to draw on your answers in past practicum to assist with this formulation.

1. In the space provided below put together your case formulation

© Gery Karantzas & Rita Younan (2021)